DTSC Symposium at the Greater N.Y. Dental Meeting

People from around the world flock to the annual Greater New York Dental Meeting (GNYDM) — held this year Nov. 27–30 — for reasons that go well beyond the fact that there is no registration fee. New York city is a delight at this time of year, offering lots of options outside the convention center.

Dental Tribune, the official media partner of the GNYDM, has joined forces with GNYDM organizers to offer four days of Dental Tribune Study Club (DTSC) Symposium in various areas of dentistry. Participants not only earn C.E. credits, but also have the opportunity to learn diverse aspects of dentistry and how to integrate a variety of treatment options into their practice.

AAIP and ADIS meet in Jamaica

The American Academy of Implant Prosthodontics (AAIP) joined with its affiliates, Atlantic Dental Implant Seminars (ADIS) and the Linkow Implant Institute, to present a five-day comprehensive implant training program in Montego Bay, Jamaica, for 10 dentists from Kazakhstan. The course, held August 4–8, included two days of lectures and three days of clinical patient treatment. Taught at Cornwall Regional Hospital, the course was the fourth cooperative effort of the Jamaican Ministry of Health and the American Academy of Implant Prosthodontics.

Under the direction of Dr. Mike Shulman, the students placed 57 implants and performed 10 sinus lifts. Prosthetic treatment of the patients will be performed at subsequent implant courses in Jamaica sponsored by the AAIP and ADIS.

American Academy of Implant Prosthodontics membership certificates were presented to the course participants. Dr. Anara Zhumadilova, director of the Department of Dental Therapy and Oral Surgery at Astana Medical University, Kazakhstan, received her AAIP mastership certificate and medallion.

Dr. Mike Shulman is course coordinator, Dr. Leonid I. Linkow is course director and Dr. Sheldon Winkler is course advisor for AAIP/ADIS-sponsored programs in Montego Bay and Kingston, Jamaica.
