Attendees will learn the steps and techniques used from diagnosis up to cementation of a restoration. Attendees can explore the latest in new dental products, CDA Presents offers up one of the most common problems encountered in patients with maxillary atrophy.

Exhibit hall floor

As the site of numerous new product launches every year and featuring more than 375 companies, the exhibit hall at CDA Presents consistently ranks among the busiest in the country. Attendees can explore 80,000 square feet of dental innovation. Staggered class schedules also provide attendees more time to conduct business on the exhibit floor without conflict with educational workshops. Dentists and all members of the dental team will have the opportunity to learn from some of the most successful names in dentistry.

The Moscone Center and neighborhoods beyond

In addition to providing informative lectures and hands-on opportunities to explore the latest in new dental products, CDA Presents also offers up one of the country's most popular destination cities as its backdrop. San Francisco provides a near-unlimited variety of venues for mingling with colleagues in the evenings. The CDA Presents Board of Managers did this to create a situation where the exhibitor floor midday traffic was less overwhelming for attendees. The board accomplished this by moving the start time for some of the classes to 8 a.m. This gives more people an opportunity to see all the great dental products available.

Headlining speakers

Some of the biggest names in dentistry are consistently a major draw at the convention, and this year is no exception. The various speakers' insights and inspiration will help dentists and staff excel in every aspect of dentistry. According to the meeting organizers, some of dentistry's most captivating speakers will be headlining the conference, presenting innovative lectures and educational workshops. Dentists and all members of the dental team will have a wide variety of opportunities to learn about the latest advancements relating to all aspects of the dental profession.

The CDA Presents Board of Managers reports that it strives to ensure all attendees, including staff, have the opportunity to learn from some of the most successful names in dentistry. Office staff members will be able to glean some key takeaways on topics such as effective communication skills, how to deal with difficult people, hands-on social media tips, the top five skills every administrative team member must master, trends in dental insurance and diagnosing and treatment challenges of periodontal diseases. Dentists can have their staffs attend profession-specific lectures and workshops. Staff members also enjoy having the time to get to know their colleagues outside of the daily office setting.

MEETINGS

ADEA combines two events in Barcelona

In this year’s clinical program covers a broad spectrum of topics, including an examination of ways digital technology is transforming workflow, demonstrations of cutting-edge tools and equipment, specialized techniques for prosthodontic therapy, a discussion of X-rays as a diagnostic tool; advice on the latest legal requirements for health and safety in the dental office; and how to meet the demands of your modern dental practice through healthy habits and humor.

The American Dental Education Association (ADEA) is hosting two meetings for today’s globally minded dental education and research communities: the 5th ADEA International Women’s Leadership Conference (IWLC) and the ADEA International Workshop. Both events — being held at the Renaissance Barcelona Fira Hotel from Sept. 14–16, in Barcelona, Spain — will focus on professional development, leadership strategies, cross-cultural connections and curricular reform to help chart dentistry’s future course.

Hundreds of dental educators, leaders and practitioners from around the world are expected to come together with ADEA experts, other thought leaders and emerging pioneers in dental education and research for the two conferences, which are separate in theme and focus.

In its fifth year, with the theme of “Global Health Through Women’s Leadership,” the ADEA IWLC is a three-day conference providing insight and perspectives on how women are forging new pathways to help advance future generations and produce better health outcomes globally. Participants — including both men and women — will explore research-based and practical strategies related to gender and the rules of women leaders in dentistry worldwide through plenaries, working groups and skills-building sessions.

Building on a long-standing collaboration with the Association for Dental Education in Europe, the ADEA International Workshop is a one-day event discussing change and innovation in dental education. With the theme “A Global Perspective on Leading Change and Innovation in Dental Education,” this meeting also presents an opportunity to further expand on ongoing efforts being championed through the ADEA Commission on Change and Innovation in Dental Education (ADEA).

Both events — being held simultaneously with the main Greater New York Dental Meeting, from Nov. 14–16, in Barcelona, Spain, pictured, is hosting back-to-back meetings presented by the American Dental Education Association, Sept. 14–16. The one-day ADEA International Workshop is immediately followed by the three-day ADEA International Women’s Leadership Conference (men and women are invited).
