Top speakers on agenda at CDA Presents

California meeting has latest on cone-beam CT, crown lengthening, obturating canals, periodontics, more

Dental professionals from around the world attend CDA Presents The Art and Science of Dentistry to learn about the latest clinical and technological advances in the industry, earn C.E. and network. In the process, they hear from some of dentistry’s most captivating speakers, which will be the case at CDA Presents in San Francisco from Sept. 8–10. A series of cadaver dissection workshops will teach attendees about anatomic correlations between cone-beam CT and dissection, indications and contraindications for crown lengthening and tips for instrumenting, disinfecting and obturating canals.

Homayon Asadi, DDS, an associate professor and course director of advanced head and neck anatomy at the University of the Pacific Arthur A. Dugoni School of Dentistry who also has a private practice in Vancouver, B.C., and a faculty member at the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry, will lead a workshop that will focus on the different techniques utilized in crown extension. Indications and contraindications for crown lengthening will also be addressed.

Ralan Wong, DDS, MS, in private practice specializing in endodontics in San Jose, Calif., will co-lead a workshop on cone beam CT and navigation-guided dissection of the head and neck.

David Hatcher, DDS, who received his dental degree from the University of Washington and was granted a specialty degree in oral and maxillofacial radiology and a master of science from the University of Toronto, will co-lead the workshop. James Grisdale, BA, DDS, a board-certified specialist in periodontics and prosthodontics with a part-time private practice in Vancouver, B.C., and a faculty member at the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry, will lead a workshop that will focus on the different techniques utilized in crown extension. Indications and contraindications for crown lengthening will also be addressed.

Sulzer acquires Geka, doubling size of mixing/applicator business unit

On July 1, Sulzer signed a binding agreement to acquire Geka GmbH, headquartered in Bechhofen, Germany. With the transaction, Sulzer is doubling the size of Sulzer Mixpac Systems (SMS), its plastic injection molding business, which develops proprietary B2B mixing and applicator solutions for the dental and industrial adhesives markets. The enterprise value is USD $290.5 million.

Through the acquisition, SMS— a business unit of Sulzer’s Chemtech division— gains segment and geographical diversification. The two businesses share an industrial core, which is expected to support cost efficiencies. Complementarity geographic manufacturing footprints are expected to enhance the combined entity’s ability to compete globally.

Additionally, Geka’s cosmetics-based product range appears to be well matched to SMS expertise in applying liquids in a controlled way onto small surfaces. SMS, in turn, is positioned to further Geka’s emerging B2B health-care focus.

Geka, with approximately 900 employees, has two manufacturing locations in Germany, one in the U.S. and one in Brazil. Sulzer will add all of Geka’s employees. The transaction is expected to close in the third quarter, subject to regulatory approval.
