Your first line of defence

Every dental surgery should be equipped to enable the dental or health care team to provide a safe and effective treatment for patients. The treatment Emergency Management Kit is easy to identify and pull from its translucent case. Patients in the surgery or waiting area who suffer cardio arrest, cardiac shock or asphyxia are immediately treated with an oxygen mask and airway maintenance. The airway maintenance is a key component in the kit’s effectiveness. It can be applied easily and quickly and is reusable. The kit also comes complete with a stock kit containing all the other commonly required items to allow the RCM officer to be deployed to any patient who requires emergency medical treatment. This kit is shown in use in the picture. For further queries, please contact: TRicoDENT
