DENTAL TRIBUNE
The World's Dental Newspaper · United Kingdom Edition

PUBLISHED IN LONDON

SEPTEMBER 7–13, 2009

VOL. 3 NO. 21

News in brief

£7.6m centre
Scotland’s public health minister, Dr John Swinney, announced the opening of a £7.6m centre for dental treatment and training in Perth. The centre, which will cost £6.5m, is expected to be completed by 2011.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

£7.6m centre
Scotland’s public health minister, Dr John Swinney, announced the opening of a £7.6m centre for dental treatment and training in Perth. The centre, which will cost £6.5m, is expected to be completed by 2011.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

Dentists still ‘poor relation’ to GPs

The average income for a dentist in England and Wales is just over £89,000, according to recent figures from the NHS Information Centre.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

£7.6m centre
Scotland’s public health minister, Dr John Swinney, announced the opening of a £7.6m centre for dental treatment and training in Perth. The centre, which will cost £6.5m, is expected to be completed by 2011.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

Dentists still ‘poor relation’ to GPs

The average income for a dentist in England and Wales is just over £89,000, according to recent figures from the NHS Information Centre.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

£7.6m centre
Scotland’s public health minister, Dr John Swinney, announced the opening of a £7.6m centre for dental treatment and training in Perth. The centre, which will cost £6.5m, is expected to be completed by 2011.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.

Dentists still ‘poor relation’ to GPs

The average income for a dentist in England and Wales is just over £89,000, according to recent figures from the NHS Information Centre.

Oral Health Month
Oral health initiatives in Scotland include a new website for dentists and parents, and a campaign to highlight the importance of oral health for children.

Quality control
You can now register with the new NHS Dental Services Quality Assurance Programme, which aims to improve the quality of dental care in England.

Growth factors
Prof. Liviu Steier and Gabriella Steier discuss how growth factors and stem cells can be used in dental treatments.

Handling feedback
Nikki Berryman discusses the importance of feedback in dental practice.