Dentsply Competition alert!

Dentsply has teamed up with the Mouth Cancer Foundation charity and will donate 50p for every Artio instrument sold in a bid to support the charity’s work of supporting people with mouth, throat and other head & neck cancers.

Concerns over hand and wrist fatigue, and the potential risks of developing carpal tunnel syndrome, have led many dentists and hygienists to search for well-designed hand instruments.

For a chance to win one of two prizes of 3 x Artio Instruments (plus a free Digital Photo Frame), please delete the incorrect feature of Artio:

- Artio Instruments are light with ergonomically shaped handles
- Artio Instruments have a unique raised star-shaped pattern
- Artio Instruments include periodontal and restorative patterns

Smile of the Year 2009 launch

Leading UK denture company, Schottlander, has launched its new search for the denture wearer with the best smile in Britain, to win the title of, Smile of the Year 2009.

Practices can get well-deserved publicity by nominating a patient for the award, who could win a romantic holiday for two, a family theme-park holiday or a luxury spa retreat.

The campaign, celebrates the millions of people in the UK, who wear dentures and who look and feel confident and attractive.

Dentures are worn by people of all ages and one million UK residents between 16 and 44. Overall, dentures are worn by more than 11 million UK residents - a quarter of all adults.

This year’s winner, Mary Harrison, said: ‘I talk to everybody and laugh and smile all the time. People say my teeth look great and I always get compliments about my smile.’

Dr Brian Schottlander said the campaign recognized the millions who wore dentures and aimed to raise awareness of the enormous benefits good dentures could bring to wearers.

He added: ‘Advances in technology mean that dentures can look so natural and realistic that they can transform the lives of wearers, who can therefore smile with confidence.’

Celebrities who have lost teeth include:

- James Bond star Daniel Craig, who was shaken not stirred when he lost his two front teeth while filming a fight sequence for the Bond film, Casino Royale.
- Hollywood star Harryson Ford, revealed on The Late Show with David Letterman, that he had false teeth fitted after he damaged them during a stunt for a TV appearance early in his career.
- Iconic, Rebel without a Cause, star, the late James Dean, lost his front teeth in a trapeze accident.
- Last but not least, screen legend, Clark Gable, star of epic love story, Gone With The Wind, sported dentures throughout his career.

Schottlander has launched its new search for the 2009, Smile of the Year, award.

Smiling is the first step toward a confident you. A smile can improve your look and your life. The Schottlander Smile Partnership is designed to find the best smile in the UK and celebrate it. Although it is a competition for dentures, it is also an awareness project that will celebrate the benefits of good dentures. The competition allows people to tell us their smile story - and pass on their tips on how to improve their own smile.

Smile-on means Top Class

Cinema trips for BDTA delegates

The leading UK provider of integrated learning programmes for healthcare professionals and organisations, took BDTA delegates to Dental Showcase 2008 on a trip to the cinema during the event at Excel in Docklands last weekend. Del egates could see innovative products in all their glory on the big screen, with Smile-on’s team on hand to answer any queries.

At the show, Smile-on also launched its course on, Communication in Dentistry: Stories from the Practice, a three-module programme developed with Dental Protection Ltd, (DPL) which illustrated how skilful and flexible communication can reduce or prevent complaints, legal claims and income loss.

The team also talked visitors through its Clinical Photography course, developed with Christopher Orr and DPL, designed to demystify photography and show how to produce consistent, high-quality clinical photographs with correct storage to minimise risk.

In addition, Smile-on was open to enquiries about its Clinical Governance Progress Management course - which allows Primary Care Trusts to monitor dental practice progress - its Key Skills package and its Clinical Audit package. Delegates also asked about INSTANT, a vital step towards dental nurse registration, providing key knowledge in health & safety, infection control, medical emergencies, radiographs, record-keeping, surgery routine and, working with the dental team.

With a commitment to convenient and dynamic learning programmes which motivate the candidate, promote learning retention and are also fun, the Smile-on team also were set to reveal the new series of Webinars. A Smile-on spokesperson said: ‘Visitors to the stand were excited by the showreel which showed how participants can learn from and interact with world-renowned experts in aesthetic and restorative dentistry, from the comfort of their own home and even replay the webinars by visiting the site.’
