Harris is a registered specialist in prosthodontics. For many years he has been a sought after speaker on the lecture circuit. Until more recently he was the primary post graduate speaker at a leading London teaching hospital in crown and bridgework minimal invasion dentistry, cosmetic dentistry and adhesive dentistry. He is 50 years of age and lives in a typical London home with his wife and two children. He is married to a dentist who is a lecturer in biochemical sciences at a London university and she is also a practicing dentist. He currently main interest in minimal invasive dentistry and his lecturing style is known to be able to relate and communicate with the general practitioner. What he communicates is appropriate and applicable.
