Discover the Secret Wonders of India

As a country it is uniquely diverse and culturally, religious, community and geographically diverse, the AGG is home to many secret wonders, and the AGG is offering you the opportunity to discover them.

On 5th April this year, AGG volunteers will be embarking on a journey from London directly out to Delhi in Northern India to begin the trip of a lifetime. After attending the Clinical Innovations Conference in Delhi the volunteers will leave Delhi to visit the Taj Mahal, and then choose between two available trip extensions. The two available tours include visits to the Himalayan peaks, the southern lighthouses of the Andaman Islands, the construction of the Emperor’s Great Hallway in the Great Hallway and the two other natural wonders in the region.

The AGG is dedicated to helping less fortunate children around the world, and already provides significant educational and medical care in India, Sri Lanka and Tanzania. If you want to get involved and really experience how different communities live, contact the AGG today.

A CEREC Data for Your Diary – March 21st 2013

A free webinar will take place on Thursday 21st March at 7.30pm hosted by Dr John Moore. He will explain how CEREC is used by around 40,000 dentists worldwide to create beautiful posterior and anterior restorations both in the surgery and in conjunction with their technicians. The financial advantages of using CEREC will also be explained so you will understand how CEREC dentists use the technology to build their practices. The webinar will show viewers the ease of use and clinical advantages of this most flexible computerised system.

Dr John Moore is a private GDP from Plymouth in Devon who uses CEREC for all his cosmetic smile makeovers, as well as single and multi-unit restorative treatments.

A great fan of the recent CEREC software evolution and material developments, John has seen that cosmetic oriented practices can now learn high quality dental composite techniques with CEREC technology with an easy-to-understand presentation focusing on clinical data behind their products. As the presentation will be presented to RPA Dental on 08000 933975, or visit www.ceramicsystems.co.uk

To become a part of the AGG Family

Dentistry can be a stressful business at times, and the build-up of anxiety can soon affect your work. While it’s important to have time away from the practice to relax, this can be equally as challenging to do in addition to family and other personal commitments.

In response, the AGG provides an extensive network of support for all its members, bringing together the minds of people who share similar interests and dreams to become reality. For your chance to be a part of something and help Work Towards The Greater Good, visit the AGG today for more information.
