Find your ideal job with Dental Gateway

When dental hygienist and clinician Suzy Parrott was looking for work, she turned to Dental Gateway. That’s why it’s the UK’s only online networking site for dental professionals.

It was becoming increasingly difficult to access job vacancies in her area without going through an agency. I had tried local sites and had decided to take a look at a site, as I had been told that registration was quick and simple. After uploading my CV into the online profile I was able to browse and search through hundreds of dental jobs and apply for the ones that interested me with a click of the mouse. Dental Gateway really took the stress out of job-hunting for me and I was extremely pleased with the results. To other hygienists looking for work I would say try Dental Gateway, you’ve got nothing to lose and a lot to gain!

Simply register today and let your dream job come to you!

The UCL Eastman Dental Institute: understanding and managing frightened patients

Fear of dentists can turn a very real problem. Studies suggest that up to 50 per cent of the UK population avoid the dentist. For many this is a large proportion of their lives; a fear that can be as frightening as snakes. The UCL Eastman Dental Institute offers a comprehensive 1-1 day course that will leave you confident to manage, reassure and provide treatment to these anxious patients.

A series of lectures, seminars, interactive sessions and demonstrations will take place one day per fortnight and offer 1.5 hours of verifiable CPD.
