Tight deadlines and shortage of space no problem for The Dental Directory
The fitting and planning of two new surgeries in one dental practice is always a challenge, especially when shortage of space and tight deadlines are involved. The Dental Directory has its own in house Architects who design all their projects to fit your requirements. The Dental Directory is more than prepared to cope, says Shirley Perry of Dawkey Dental Family Dental in Telford.

The practice had just moved into a new building that was created by using available space, therefore the Architect was able to maximise the size of the surgery and the use of space.

“Over the years the Dental Directory has been a helpful source of information. It is invaluable to have a quick reference guide and I always have a copy of the directory to hand.”
